

Explanation: University of Northwestern – St. Paul maintains confidentiality of student educational records in accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974 as amended. As of the first day of classes, your educational records belong to you, the student, and not your parents (as during your K-12 years), spouse, or others. By filling out and signing this release and submitting the form to the Registrar’s Office, you are giving Northwestern school officials the right to communicate with the person(s) you designate below (which can include yourself) about your educational records as indicated below. The specified educational records may be made available only if requested by the authorized individual/third party as Northwestern does not automatically send identified information. You may revoke this permission for any designated individual/third party at any time by completing the bottom portion of the form.

By signing this consent, I, the student, expressly authorize University of Northwestern – St. Paul, including its agents or employees, to release my educational record information indicated below to the party listed below. I agree to release, discharge, and hold harmless University of Northwestern – St. Paul from any and all liability whatsoever arising out of its release or use of information pursuant to this release regardless of its accuracy.

I understand that this authorization has no expiration date, but may be revoked in writing by me at any time except to the extent that action has been taken in reliance upon it. A photocopy of this authorization and release shall have the same force and effect as the original hereof digitally or physically signed by me. I further acknowledge that I have carefully read this release, fully understand its terms and legal significance, and execute it voluntarily.
