

Bachelor of Science in Ministry

---

Northwestern Bachelor of Science in Ministry students receive the critical training needed for effective leadership in traditional and non-traditional ministry settings. Students explore specific knowledge, skills, and personal values that prepare leaders biblically, relationally, and practically for wise service in church, nonprofit, or cross-cultural roles.

Program Highlights

- Coursework can be completed in under two years
- Offered fully online
- Experienced professors currently involved in ministry
- Practical coursework and projects immediately applicable to your current work or ministry
- Dynamic teaching and discussions from a Christian perspective, with God's Word as the ultimate authority
- Development of communication, interpersonal, and supervisory skills critical to sound leadership
- Option to enroll in the accelerated M.A. in Ministry Leadership program or use the degree as a foundation for a Master in Divinity

Career Opportunities

With a Ministry degree, you will be prepared for roles in a variety of settings, such as:

- Adult and youth ministry
- Associate pastorship
- Camp ministry
- Children & family ministries
- Disaster and relief work
- Missions
- Nonprofit work
- Parachurch ministry

Note: Roles in some settings may require additional education or training.
