

Department of ENGLISH & LITERATURE

Mission Statement

The mission of the Department of English & Literature is to educate students in the fundamental concepts, knowledge, and skills relevant to the study of literature, linguistics, creative writing, and professional writing within a Christian context. We seek to prepare students for employment in a broad range of professions and ministries, including but not limited to those directly related to our field. In addition, we seek to prepare students for the pursuit of advanced degrees in literature, writing, and linguistics as well as other related fields such as law and library science.

English Major Bachelor of Arts or Bachelor of Science

The English major is divided into four concentrations: literature, writing, literature and writing, and linguistics.

Linguistics Concentration (B.A.)

The linguistics concentration prepares students to pursue graduate work in linguistics, as well as careers in fields such as intercultural studies, translation, anthropology, and comparative studies. In the linguistics concentration, students sharpen their critical thinking, reading, and writing skills as they examine core areas of linguistic studies (e.g., phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, theory of second language acquisition, and sociolinguistics). Students will complete one summer of coursework at CanIL at Trinity Western University (Canada) (CanIL-TWU) or Dallas International University (DIU). The senior capstone course in linguistics enables students to apply their knowledge as they participate in primary research. The degree is granted upon completion of credits specified on pages 48–49 (40 credits must be successfully completed in 3000- or 4000-level courses).

- Scientific & Quantitative Literacy social science course in core curriculum: ICS2045.
